Advanced document processing as efficiency driver

Today, companies receive sales orders and order confirmations through different channels. These are often not clearly structured, to be entered manually and difficult to trace. Media changes, delays and missing transparency are the consequences with a direct effect on processing times, subsequent processes and customer satisfaction.

FIS/DocumentManagement Package in the cloud enables companies to holistically process sales orders and order confirmations. Documents are entered centrally, read intelligently and further processed seamlessly in SAP without manual interim steps and information losses.

What characterizes FIS/InvoiceManagement Package?

■ End-to-end process coverage

Working centrally in one solution that covers the entire document process concerning order confirmations and sales orders from entry and check to processing and release.

■ Seamless SAP integration

Fully integrated in SAP and available as public cloud solution. In this way, all documents and processes remain system-aided, compatible and efficiently controllable.

■ Automated document entry

Automated transfer of order confirmations and sales orders, e.g. directly from the e-mail inbox or via electronic interfaces. Consequently, manual processing is no longer needed and error rates are reduced.

■ Intelligent document recognition

OCR technology and AI-supported models identify relevant data, such as items, quantities or prices, reliably and quickly.

■ Automated check & comparison

Order confirmations are automatically compared with SAP purchase orders and default specifications. Variances are recognized and can directly be corrected or approved in the process.

■ Optimized processing for sales orders

Sales orders are entered in an automated way and can be further processed directly in SAP after having been checked successfully and released. This accelerates the confirmation of orders and optimizes warehouse processes.

■ Dashboard for full transparency

An intuitive dashboard displays all incoming documents, processing statuses and discrepancies that may occur. In this way, users always keep an overview of the processing statuses of their sales orders and order confirmations.

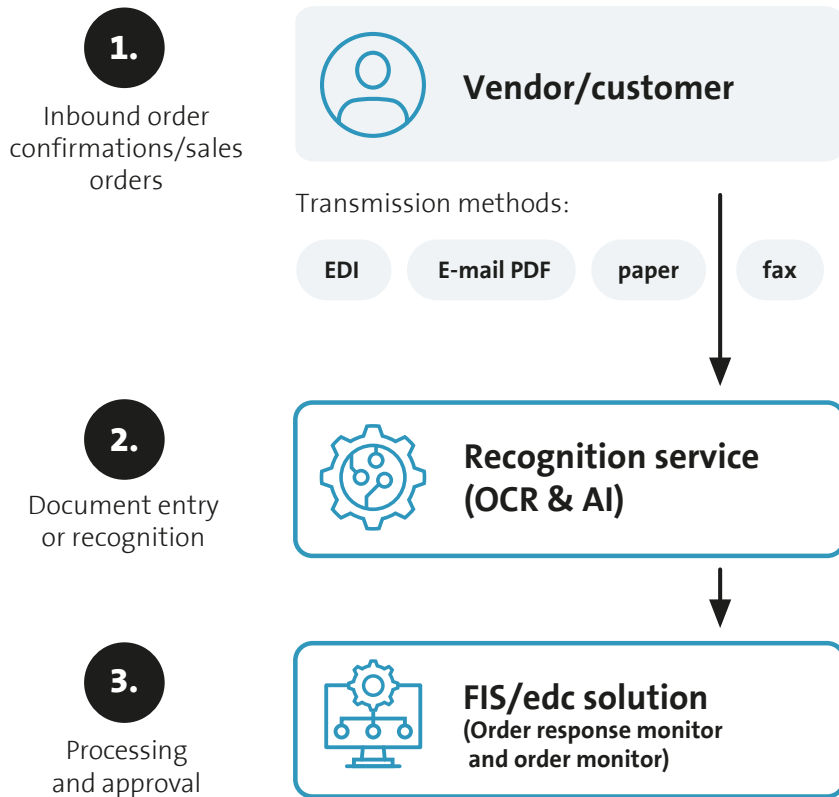

■ Dynamic adaptability through public cloud

Process adjustments, updates or also extensions are flexibly made in the running operation - without interruption and for maximum convenience and continued further development.

■ Order confirmations and sales orders in one package and at one price

Easy and transparent: a contract, a monthly subscription in accordance with the individual document volume - without hidden costs.

Receipt entrance process:

How does it work?

Order confirmations and sales orders reach your company in any kind of format and are automatically adopted by a service, entered and transferred to a central cockpit. There, the user gets a transparent overview of all inbound documents including filter options and the respective processing status.

The employee responsible can directly access the requested operations. The sales orders and order confirmations are clearly displayed and visualized and can be checked there or adjusted if necessary. Once checked, the operations can automatically be transferred to SAP.
